Traffic Calming Manual

Manager Breuckman gave an overview of the traffic manual for consideration. Over the past few months the City has been working on a formal traffic calming program and a traffic calming manual to present a few methods by which the City or residents may initiate traffic calming measures. The manual and program have been introduced to the City Commission at their January meeting and to the general public at a town hall meeting on January 22nd. The City Commission is interested in feedback from the Planning Commission. The manual will be revised, if necessary, based on any input received.
